ABOUT YOUR HYGIENE APPOINTMENT:

Calculus or tartar is the hard buildup that forms on your teeth between cleanings. This buildup can form heavy layers above the gums where you can see it, and below the gums out of sight. The rate at which it accumulates is dependent upon several factors such as how often your teeth are cleaned, or how effectively you re brushing and flossing.

Your insurance usually covers all or a portion of a routine prophylaxis (cleaning). This cleaning usually involves the removal of small amounts of stain, plaque, or calculus and polishing your teeth. If your teeth have large amounts of calculus that has built up above or below the gums, additional treatment at subsequent visits may be necessary to remove these accumulations. If this is the case, then the first visit is referred to as initial debridement, rather than a routine prophylaxis (cleaning).

Dental insurance coverage for these procedures varies and we will attempt to advise you of your coverage for any treatment that is recommended. The initial debridement is $120.00 your portion is due at the time of your visit. Quadrant scales may be needed, which is deep cleanings where your mouth is numbed and cleaned in 4 sections. Each section is $240.00. Your insurance will only cover a portion of this fee and you will be responsible for the remaining portion at the time of your visit.

Your signature below acknowledges that you have been made aware of these conditions and that you understand that it is your responsibility for the difference in what insurance pays compared to our fees. Any further information may be obtained from your hygienist, doctor or insurance staff.
